

Nesting & Lunnasting Local Place Plan – help shape what comes next

A Local Place Plan is a community-led way of setting out what matters about our area, what we want to protect, what could work better, and what we would like to see happen in the future. It can help make sure local priorities are understood when decisions are being made about planning, investment and services.

We are not starting from a blank page. A lot of work has already taken place through the Nesting, Girlsta and Wadbister Community Action Plan and an existing draft Local Place Plan. We now want to build on that work, check what is still important, hear what may have changed, and make sure the views of communities across Lunnasting and Nesting are properly reflected too.

Come and have a blether on Thursday 17
September

South Nesting Hall – 4pm to 8pm

Vidlin Hall – 4pm to 8pm

There will be maps and information to look at, but nothing too formal. Drop in when it suits, tell us what matters to you, point things out on the map, and help us shape the draft Local Place Plan.

Everyone is very welcome!

Work is underway on a Local Place Plan for Nesting and Lunnasting.

That might mean talking about housing, buses and getting around, halls and community facilities, local shops and services, paths and places people value, opportunities for young people, or simply the things that make this a good place to live.

Can't make it along? You can still take part. If you are unable to come to the drop-ins, or would rather share your views directly, please email: naomi@eylandskyn.co.uk or WhatsApp: 07974 561181. Send a comment, idea, concern or even a photo or map of a place you think we should know about.
